Case study

Caxton Printing Co.

Accrington, UK

The project

Established in 1950, Caxton Printing Co. has seen many changes in the industry providing the knowledge and experience your present day requirements demand.

Caxton were having troubles with their existing fleet, the constant curling of prints, duplex registration on runs over 300gsm and the inconsistency of colour with prints with long runs.

The Solution

The MPS Team have provided Caxton with a fleet of Versant 280 printers. With built-in D-Curler, SIQA software and External Fiery, reducing production time, reducing cost implications and improving productivity in other areas by reducing the time taken out for troubleshooting.

The Result

Caxton now have a fully functional fleet of reliable printers, with pristine finish and consistent printing at reduced costs, allowing them to focus their attentions on other areas of the business.
